RE: DAVE'S GONE BY

Dear radio listeners,
Sunday night, 4/16/06, Dave celebrates the upcoming 37th birthday of Earth Day with Lisa and Ron Beres of Green Nest. Plus an environ-medley featuring Dave's own twist on "Michael, Row the Boat Ashore."

Says Dave about this week's episode, "Planet Earth's been pretty good to me, so I figure why not give back a little? All ideas spoken on this week's show will be certified organic, and every word will be available for recycling. However, the show is not biodegradable, since there's really no way I can be further degraded."

Dave's Gone By: Sun., April 16, 2006 at 11pm (ET) on L.I.'s WGBB (AM 1240) and live audio streaming worldwide at www.davesgoneby.org. Vintage episodes are repeated Thursdays at 8 & 11(ET) on Live365.com's DFSXRadio channel.

DAVE'S GONE BY is a weekly mix of talk, humor and music, from political commentary to sketch comedy, from theater reviews to interviews, from musical detours to straight-talking monologues. Guests have included Neil Sedaka, Christine Lavin, Neil Innes, Wreckless Eric, Frank Wildhorn and Housewives on Prozac. Popular segments include "News Gone By," "Inside Broadway," "The World Weird Web" and "Dave's Gone Cultural." Visit us at www.davesgoneby.org.

DAVE'S GONE BY airs Sundays, 11pm(ET) on Long Island , NY's WGBB-AM 1240 and www.davesgoneby.org (live worldwide audio stream). Since debuting Oct. 6, 2002, DAVE'S GONE BY has treated listeners to one of the most off-beat and engaging shows in local radio. An award-winning playwright, Dave Lefkowitz is founder and editor of TotalTheater.com, co-publisher of Performing Arts Insider (PerformingArtsInsider.com), monthly columnist for The Improper, and off-Broadway editor of New York Theater News.
