Great gifts from Green Nest

Posted by Pinky Bean on February 1, 2008 12:18 PM

Filed Under: Home, Life

Green Nest is all about creating healthy homes (that is their website tag line after all). This is a fantastic place to go to find simple yet stylish ways to incorporate eco-friendliness into your lifestyle. Green Nest offers everything from air purifiers and water filters to baby bedding, non-toxic cleaning products and organic pet products.

If you're searching for the perfect Valentine's Day gift for your someone special, you'll find some great options here that are both unique and romantic.

Gift Boxed Contemporary Tumblers - these tumblers are filled with all-natural soy candles that are biodegradable and contain no toxic materials and lead-free wicks. As an added bonus, you can keep reusing the tumblers long after the candles have disappeared.

Bath Set - Create a relaxing bathing experience with a set of towels made from organically grown Indian cotton, and non-toxic soy candles. Ensure the comfort continues after the bath with the Diamond Waffle Weave Robe.

Hotel Collection Bedding - The collection includes pillow shams, fitted and flat sateen sheets, a duvet cover and pillow cases, all made from 100 per cent organic cotton from India and available in beautiful shades of white, sky blue and chocolate brown.

Visit Green Nest for more products that contribute to a healthy, sustainable home.

Use the measuring lines on your coffee pot once in a while. Don't brew a whole pot if you're only going to drink a cup or two. You can also be an eco-friendly barista by using unbleached filters and composting your used coffee grounds when you're cleaning your coffee machine.
